The AURA collection opens up a new realm of sensory exploration through its emphasis on the tangible and tactile elements of design. Drawing inspiration from the world of the concrete and the physical, AURA aims to stimulate a deeper connection with our surroundings. The continuous surface design invites tactile engagement, encouraging users to touch, feel and interact, thereby promoting an intimate experience with the material. This not only makes us more aware of the physicality of our environments, but also allows us to interpret and understand them in a more profound way.
